CELEBRATING CAF'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

October 19 – 21, 2018

Twenty-five years ago, three friends came together to create a fundraising event in order to help one athlete, Jim MacLaren, who became a quadriplegic following a tragic accident while competing in a triathlon. This event has since become known as the San Diego Triathlon Challenge (SDTC). The support for Jim MacLaren at the first SDTC in 1994 revealed a greater need in our society. Since then CAF has been committed to breaking the financial barrier that individuals with physical challenges face to participate in sports and live a healthy and active lifestyle. CAF has raised $100 million and given out over 23,000 individual grants for adaptive sports equipment, training, and competition expenses.

A MESSAGE FROM VIRGINIA TINLEY, CAF CHIEF EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR:

“We started 25 years ago with a humble vision to help one injured friend, Jim MacLaren,” says Virginia Tinley, Chief Executive Director. “With the passion and dedication of supporters and Challenged Athletes alike, we started a movement where Challenged Athletes have changed perceptions and taught us all what we can overcome with strength, perseverance and community support. I’m proud that CAF has been a major source of that support by providing 23,000 individual grants worldwide across 95 different sports to get individuals with physical challenges back into the game of life.”

SOME OF THE ATHLETES ATTENDING

SARAH REINERSTEN

A former Paralympic Track Athlete and first amputee woman to complete IRONMAN Kona, she has served as motivation for countless athletes by demonstrating what she could accomplish in spite of being born with a bone growth disorder. Sarah has won accolades for the USOC and ESPN Best Female Athlete with a Disability (in 1991 and 2006 respectively), as well as been named USAT Best Physically Challenged Triathlete of the Year in 2006. Sarah has also been featured on the cover of Runner's World among numerous other publications, including ESPN's The Body Issue. Her most recent accomplishment includes the World Marathon Challenge (7 marathons, 7 continents, 7 days), and she will again take on the IRONMAN World Championship this year.

BREEZY BOCHENEK

At ten years old, Breezy was diagnosed with Osteosarcoma, an aggressive form of bone cancer on her left thigh, and would need to amputate her leg above the knee to save her life. Breezy was given hope after meeting CAF spokesperson and amputee athlete, Sarah Reinertsen. "She was the first woman with a prosthetic to complete a full Ironman; maybe I'll be the youngest." Breezy has competed in several triathlons, including the Wildflower triathlon as well as the San Diego Triathlon Challenge. Breezy trains doing CrossFit 3-4 times a week and is preparing to enter and finish her first IRONMAN Triathlon when she is 18. Breezy has also attended CAF's Junior Seau Foundation Youth Adaptive Surf camp as well as multiple clinics.

SCOUT BASSETT

Scout was found by a Chinese orphanage after a fire took her right leg, leaving her an above-knee amputee. At the age of seven, she was adopted and brought to the United States. Scout's prosthetist encouraged her to go to an adaptive track meet where she learned about CAF. Scout won CAF's 2016 Most Inspirational Athlete award and serves as a mentor for youth. She is a Nike running athlete, Paralympian, and speaker. After her first grant for a running leg, Scout started running seriously. She eventually qualified for her first World Championships in 2013 and eventually the 2016 Rio Paralympic Games. Scout won her first medal in international competition in 2017 during World Championships in London.

RODERICK SEWELL

Paralympic Swimmer Roderick Sewell never dreamed of playing sports and being active as a kid. He and his mom were just fighting to live. Born without a father in the picture, and missing both tibias, Roderick and his mom were homeless for five years after she quit her job to get unemployment—a way to pay for Roderick's prosthetics to walk. It wasn't until Roderick met someone from the Challenged Athletes Foundation did he realize that sports were a possibility for him. Through CAF, Roderick met Rudy Garcia-Tolson, a fellow bilateral above-knee amputee. Friendship and support quickly formed through solidarity and Roderick found himself following Rudy onto the track then eventually into the water. Today, Roderick is a member of the U.S. Paralympic swim team — and a gold medalist.

SOME OF THE ATHLETES ATTENDING

WILLIE STEWART

In 1980, a construction accident resulted in the loss of Willie's arm. Willie is the first challenged athlete to complete the Leadman Challenge. His sport resume also includes winning the Catalina Marathon overall, completing the IRONMAN and Xterra world championships, and a Paralympic medal in cross country skiing.

Willie is also a 15-time Escape from Alcatraz Triathlon finisher and current course record holder, and two-time finisher of the grueling HURT 100 mile run in Honolulu.

BRENNA HUCKABY

Brenna contracted Osteosarcoma at 14, resulting in an above knee amputation. A former gymnast, Brenna turned her eye to snowboarding and after showing considerable talent, moved from Louisiana to Utah to train. Huckaby competed at the 2018 Winter Paralympics, winning gold medals in both the snowboard cross and banked slalom. Brenna is also the first amputee to be featured in Sports Illustrated's swimsuit edition. Fundraiser for CAF and has rode MDC multiple times.

RUDY GARCIA-TOLSON

Due to a rare birth defect, Rudy elected to amputate both legs above the knee at the age of five for a chance to have greater mobility. Rudy immediately began swimming and running, and at age 15, he won his first Gold medal in the Paralympic Games as a swimmer. Rudy has been to every summer Paralympic Games since 2004 and medaled at all four games. He is a spokesperson for CAF and mentors younger athletes who are joining the world of adaptive swim.

CHELE TEABOUT

Chele served as a Corrections Officer for the Albany County Sheriff's Department. A severe leg injury resulted in amputation after multiple surgeries failed to recover her condition. Chele continued to struggle until connecting with CAF and attending SDTC. She received an Operation Rebound training grant, a bike, and a running foot. Since becoming involved with CAF, Chele has begun competing in triathlon and has lost over 100 lbs.

ISAIAH PEAD

Isaiah Pead is a former NFL Running back who lost his left leg in a car accident. He is now an above knee amputee with dreams of hopefully becoming a Paralympic sprinter.
